

① Ocean Density + Temperature

1. What are density currents?

Downward moving cold water which moves beneath the surface of the water.

Cold water sinks because it is more dense.

2. How does water temperature affect ocean currents?

The temperature changes the density of the water. It creates layers and currents in the ocean.